Pull Up a Chair...and Dance!

Playhouse Square is preparing to launch weekly dance classes for people with Parkinson's and their care partners this fall. Education Department Senior Manager of Neurological Programs Joan Meggitt, a Dance for Parkinson's specialist, is designing the program and will lead classes.

Playhouse Square has hosted three Dance for Parkinson's special events and Joan is teaching pop-up classes in the region to give people a sampling of class activities. RedCoat volunteers are invited to participate in a class just for them on Monday, March 10, 2025, 10 a.m. to 11 a.m. in the Allen Theatre Lobby. Seating is limited, so please sign up! Click the link below:

Joan draws from a variety of dance styles to create a fun and engaging class, including great music. Class begins with a seated warm-up and progresses to standing exercises, culminating in a social dance exploration.

The class is accessible to all levels of ability and mobility, no experience required. All are welcome to pull up a chair with Joan and join the dance!

Did You Know the Schuyler Sisters Were Just as Revolutionary?

While Hamilton is filled with incredible stories of triumph, it also brings to light the lives of the Schuyler sisters, whose contributions to the American Revolution were just as groundbreaking.

Angelica Schuyler's intellect and boldness made her a force to be reckoned with in a male-dominated world. Eliza Schuyler, deeply devoted to her family, preserved Hamilton's legacy long after his death. And Peggy Schuyler, though often in the background, was a woman of strength and courage in her own right.

These women weren't just supporting characters; they were pioneers who helped shape the course of history, and Hamilton ensures their legacies live on.

If you want to dive deeper into the remarkable lives of these women, visit playhousesquare.org/news/detail/getting-to-know-the-schuyler-sisters. Discover how they reshaped history, challenged norms, and left a lasting impact on the world!
